New Accounting Best Practices Newsletter and Blog Iss Released!

5:03 AM PST, March 15, 2006

I have just issued a new newsletter covering the topic of how missed billings; this is when a company ships a product or pr service, and yet somehow never issues an invoice for it. Click read the newsletter on my archives page, or click here to sign the newsletter (it's still free!).

Also, I have just fired up a web log (blog) that also deals with accounting best practices. It is intended to expand upon topi newsletter, as well as cover additional unrelated best practice information. Click here to see the blog, or click here to sign u free e-mail newsletter, which you can subscribe to at www.stevebragg.com. The latest newsletter describes mu to improve shipping charge revenue. The last few dozen new are located under the "Newsletter Back Issues" category on t side of the link listed above.

A brand new addition to the site is a site search capability, lis as "Conduct Site Search for Accounting Topics" in the center home page. This is quite useful, since the site now includes pages of accounting information, including an accounting dict fast close topics, metrics, an acquisition due diligence checkli more.

Finally, in a wildly unrelated area, if you go to my bio (lower l of the home page), I've now added pages containing dive phc Palau (just got back last week!) and Barbados, as well as my from having climbed most of the highest points on each conti Click here to go straight to that page.

A quick word on diving in Palau -- they are famous for reef hc where you use a metal hook to grab onto a chunk of coral, ar clip a line attached to the hook onto your scuba rig. Our grou reef hooking on the edge of a massive coral wall when the cu suddenly increased violently, blowing half the group off the re to the surface. One person who held on had his regulator (th you breathe through) break in half, with the mouthpiece still mouth but the rest of the device ripped away; in a very stout breathed in seawater but still remembered to grab his backup and use that. Another person had his map ripped off, while a person's regulator free-flowed (used up the air really fast) un all of his air was gone. Two Japanese divers had been blown same reef the week before, and were pushed so far out to se they were not picked up for 40 hours. Despite these experier Palau is an exceptional place to dive, and I highly recommend don't mind some really long flights to get there -- it is 800 mi Guam).

REAL NAME™

This book has so many great accounting best practices it should serve as a goal for every comp an invaluable reference guide to anyone who is just starting a business, or needing to improve efficiency of their accounting functions.

I most liked the fact that the book is so easy to read. You won't have to be a CPA to understand book.

My only suggestion is that the book should have a companion CD or web site with all of the bes already in an electronic format.
